A Verse For This Week

Hope is the only good which is common to all men; those who have nothing more possess hope still.—Thales.

You Ought To Be Ashamed

You ought to be ashamed—if disgrace. The county spent a good bit of money putting up the fence there to protect the hospital grounds. They did a good job in making a fence that would blend with the general surroundings and not be unsightly. They made a fence that added beauty.

And now—this You ought to be ashamed if you had a part in it. We call upon the city police of Statesboro to make daily periodic checks in front of the hospital and make cases against anyone parked in such a manner that the fence has been further torn apart. We call upon them to make cases against drivers who park with automobile wheels upon the hospital lawn. There is no need to deface this property through incompetent driving, carelessness, or improper attitude. We feel sure city ordinances cover parking in places such as this. A few cases will convince other drivers of the necessity of being careful.

And if you are one of those persons who makes things such as these necessary—then you ought to be ashamed.

You May Die Tomorrow

This is written for you. Don't stop reading now. Tomorrow is July 4th—and tomorrow you may be dead.

Last year 33,500 persons died in automobile accidents in the United States. Don't stop reading. Tomorrow is July 4th—and you may be dead.

Let's look for a minute at the figure 33,500. Let's look longer at the people—all 33,500 of them. If these people had been killed in front of your house then you could have stood on your porch day and night, week in and week out, and witnessed a death every 13 minutes.

This is a lot of people. This is more than four times the population of Statesboro. But these people are dead now, killed in accidents that might easily have been avoided.

Don't stop reading now because you don't like to read about death. Tomorrow is July 4th—and you may be dead.

Let's look at what else accidents cost last year. In money, the cost was over $2,000,000,000. Spelled out, that is two billion dollars. That's a lot of money. But money isn't the important thing.

Let's look at the 1,150,000 people who were injured. Look at you try it.

DON'T LOSE YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY!

Are you one of those people who are losing retirement or death benefits due them? If you have reached 65, are no longer working, but have been working any length of time during the last ten years, you may be entitled to Social Security retirement in Savannah, calls attention to the fact that many people in this area are not filing claim for the retirement and death benefits due them.

Fun at Home

By Margaret Charters Lyon

Boys and Girls: Read this to yourselves! Try it for yourselves!

The air bass, three miles beyond town on the Dover Road, is yours. It belongs to the citizens of our county. Right now it is used only for baseball, with empty buildings set in the woods and paved roads leading no special place. But some day it can be the finest sort of place for camping, parties and meetings. Some folks dream of a big lake there, space for games, cottages, whatever we want and can afford to get.

This week end, you and your family could drive all around the air base in a "day dreaming trip." You have the right to plan what you would like to see there just as well as the next fellow.

Where do you think the lake could be dammed up? If your church had a week's camp out there, which would be the best buildings for cabins? Where would you put a place to shoot bows and arrows? A softball field? A playground for the little children? Could one building be fixed up for people to give plays in? If a crowd of you went out for a wicker roast, where should fireplaces and tables be set? Right now there is a table at the end of the road in the woods; you all could take your lunch to eat while you explore tomorrow.

The really exciting part about ideas are important. That park your day dreaming is that you will be fixed up to suit the people who use it. So, if you, your family and friends have good suggestions, talk about them to our local.

Anyone old enough to read this can cook without help. And boys can do quite as well as girls. An easy thing to start with is desserts that you can buy in boxes all ready to fix.

Some afternoon when you have an hour at home, why don't you make a gingerbread cake? Buy a box called "gingerbread mix." Before you start mixing, start your oven to heating. Empty the box of gingerbread mix in a bowl; stir in the amount of water that the directions call for, or can put in some raisins, too. Then pour it in a big baking dish that you have rubbed inside with grease. Set it in the oven to bake.

Test it five minutes before the directions say it should be done. It is a toothpick stuck in the middle comes out clean, the cake is done; if a little bit sticks, let it cook longer.

The last part of any cooking is cleaning up. Try to leave the kitchen so straight that your mother will be glad to have you work in it again.

Thinking Out Loud

The newly-organized unit of the National Guard in Statesboro is to be congratulated.

This post-war reorganization will bring from $60,000 to $75,000 into this area each year through drill pay alone. To date only 50 have responded to the call for volunteers. With good pay for one night of drill each week we believe more of the men of our community will be interested.

The new commanding officer, Lt. Col. Henry Ellis, is no stranger to matters military or to Statesboro. During the war he made an enviable record for himself in the service of his country. We commend his appointment and we feel that with his talents and ambition the Guard will march forward with our changing times.

We also commend his selection of a staff. These include Major LaFayette Collins, Executive Officer; Major Penton Rimes, Plans and Training Officer; Captain Shields Kenan, CO of "A" Battalion; Lt. Leland Riggs, Adjutant; Lt. Albert Powell, Supply Officer; and Lt. Gene L. Hodges, CO of the Hq. Battalion.

Our support of the Guard now will mean better support from them if they are ever again needed.

The Almanac Says the Weather This Week On...

TODAY, THURSDAY, July 3, will be unsettled.
FRIDAY, July 4, will be hot.
SATURDAY, July 5, will be hot with showers.
SUNDAY, July 6, will be stormy.
MONDAY, July 7, will be unsettled.
TUESDAY, July 8, will be stormy with wind.
WEDNESDAY, July 9, will be fair and hot.

... But Don't Blame Us If the Almanac Is Wrong!

WE OFTEN WONDER how many people listen to our one-minute radio spot on station WWNS each Thursday at 12:15 p.m. At this time we give a short summary of what you'll find in the Herald for that week and make some comment about the good news to be found in our advertising columns.

Each week we always run into several people who tell us that they heard our little "spot" and that it pointed out things in the Herald for that week and make some comment about the good news to be found in our advertising columns.

THE GEORGIA POWER COMPANY office here had as its guests last week the winners in the recent essay contest sponsored by the company. The party was traveling all over the state on a tour which was given as a prize for winning. During their brief stop in Statesboro the local manager, Sam Strauss, showed them over the city and had refreshments waiting for them when they returned.

As we were getting the finishing touches put on last week's issue he called and asked us to join in the eating and to meet the guests.

We found about 20 visitors, who had traveled from the mountains of north Georgia down the state and were headed for a few days at the coast, then a swing southward, and finally across the low-lying part of the state and back to Atlanta. Most of them were high school age youngsters who seemed to be enjoying the trip very much.

THE NEW STREAMLINED train which will start making trips from Savannah to Atlanta soon seems to be a fine thing for school age youngsters who seem enough to own a car. With the low fares that have been announced...

Good Books Are True Friends

In the best books great men talk to us, give us their most precious thoughts, and pour their souls into ours.—Channing

By Mrs. F. F. Baker

"ANDROMEDA" — by Jacland Marmur. "YOUNG" — by Babette Hughes.

I don't know when I have read a book that impressed me as deeply as this, both the narrative itself, and Mr. Marmur's unusual, beautiful prose. It is the story of a grand old ship and her crew. Andromeda is the last ship to sail out of Singapore before the Japs arrive and, although she's a cargo vessel, is carrying two passengers, Alexander Bane and Nancy Paget. Bane is a self-centered opportunist, who is carrying a fortune with him and who is secretly, by friendly with the Japs. Nancy is young and beautiful, and before long becomes the object of every crewman's day dreams.

John Fleming, the chief mate, has known her in the Philippines, and is in love with her, as she is with him, although she doesn't realize it yet. As for the crew, each one is so important to the story we must give them at least a paragraph. Mr. Wainwright, the chief engineer, who is a sweet, philosophical person, and a long time friend of the Captain, Thomas Kenross, who has been sailing the seas for forty years; Alfred Austen, who hardly ever speaks, and plays the violin; George, quartermaster, who wants a promotion; "Chips," the bitter, sardonic carpenter; Boats, the bosun, and last, but not least, poor Joe, the oiler, who was badly disfigured in the first war and has been a little simple-minded since.

Slowly, the Andromeda makes her way through the Java Sea, but when attempting to run through Sunda Strait she is attacked by Jap planes. George is killed, and is buried at sea. Although Captain Kenross' orders are to get to San Francisco, he decides to reach the Australian coast as soon as possible, for safety's sake.

When nearing Leeuwin Cape, he becomes aware that they are being followed by a submarine. Bane, meanwhile, proposes to Nancy. She refuses and he tells her that if he identifies himself by means of signals, the Japs will let Andromeda alone. Nancy rushes out on deck, and seeing Joe, tells him to stand guard over Bane, while she notifies the Captain. At this moment, torpedoes strike the ship. Wainwright, Nancy Fleming, Bane (minus his money), Austen and Joe escape in a lifeboat, while the Captain, pinned to the deck by wreckage, and dying, manages to set off a rocket, signal the anti-submarine patrol at Perth.

After their return trip to America, Don secures a fine position at Bliss College, has an offer to do some writing for the movies, and the story ends with Cleopatra (as he calls her) awaiting the arrival of her child.

Mystery of the Week: "GHOST OF A CHANCE" — by Kelly Roos.

Halla and Jeff Troy (my favorite sleuthing couple) have only twenty-four hours to find (1) the person who is about to be murdered; (2) her would-be murderer; (3) Why? They are blocked at every turn by as crafty a gang of villains as ever were, but are successful in a surprising finish.

Verdict: Excellent.

ODDS AND ENDS DEPT.

I was lent an old book the other day titled "Southern Business Directory," dated 1852. Naturally, I looked up "Bulloch County" (as they spelled it) and this is what I found: Total population of county—3,933; taxable property—$1,892,183; number of churches, all faiths—15. And the leading merchants of that day were Fletcher and Tronton.

Miss Nezzie Lee Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen, became the bride of Joseph Dennis Hamilton, of Louisville, Ky., June 24th. They were married at Saint Theresa Rectory.

Rev. Louis J. Nieters performed the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of the families and close friends.

Mr. Charles Wallace Hamilton was his brother's best man and Miss Margaret Schurr was the bride's maid of honor.

The bride chose for her wedding dress a blue crepe model, worn with black accessories. She carried a nosegay of bride's roses. Her only ornament was a gold band, an heirloom of the family.

HERE'S HOW it happens!

Yes, here's how more than 5,500 people died and thousands more were injured last year—because someone took one or two drinks, and then drove.

If you think you can drink and then drive safely you're simply courting suicide—or murder. You're drinking a toast to Death!

Statistics show that one out of every six drivers involved in fatal automobile accidents had been drinking. Drinking drivers are three or four times more likely to be involved in accidents. Tests have proved time and again that a couple of drinks are sufficient to lower a driver's reactions to the danger point. When quick action and alert judgment are demanded, the driver who has been drinking fails.

If it were only the drinking driver himself who paid the penalty, that would be bad enough. But when he cuts short the lives of other innocent people—riders in his car, occupants of other cars, or pedestrians caught by his erratic driving—that's manslaughter!

Don't smile when you read this, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen. The law operates with a heavy hand on drinking drivers. It is going to be even tougher in the future. It's serious business!

When you drink, don't drive. When you drive, don't drink!

RIGGS-COLLINS

Of cordial interest to friends and large family connections in this section were the marriages of Miss Thelma Lee Wallace to Buell Olliff Dekle and of Miss Lucy Joyce Riggs to Mitchell Lloyd Collins in a beautiful double wedding ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Riggs near Statesboro on Wednesday afternoon, June 25, with Elder R. H. Kennedy, of Collins, officiating.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Roger Holland, pianist, Miss Margaret Sherman, who sang "Because," and Bill and Bob Holland, who sang "I Love Thee."

Miss Dolores Riggs was maid of honor for her sister and Frank Ray, Jr., of Millen, served as Mr. Collins' best man.

The bride party stood before a lovely altar of ferns, white oleander and magnolias occupying one end of the living room.

Miss Wallace chose for her wedding a smart crepe tropical suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of orchids.

Miss Riggs' suit was a gray gabardine with pink silk blouse worn with white accessories. Her corsage was pink gladioli with stephanotis.

Mrs. Arthur Riggs, mother and aunt of the brides, wore a light blue summer crepe. Mr. Dekle's mother wore shell pink shantung embroidered in white. Mr. Collins' mother wore a beige crepe frock. All wore pink carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Riggs entertained with a reception. The bride's table was overlaid with a handsome lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Ivy and oleander outlined the table and cluster formations of white flowers cascaded with satin ribbon marked the corners of the table. White tapers in crystal holders were flanked the central decorations.

The guests were served individual embossed cakes, ice cream, and punch.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. Herschel Franklin and introduced to the receiving line, composed of the brides and grooms and their parents.

Serving in the dining room were Mesdames F. W. Olliff, R. P. Jones, Bannah Cowart, Lester Riggs, Gordon Riggs, C. O. Bohler, Ellie Rimes, Jimmy Atwood, W. W. Phillips and Arthur Brannen.

At the punch bowl on the porch were Mesdames Dot Royals, Elizabeth Lanier, Joan Phillips, Marilyn Jones, Mildred Denny, Imogene Bohler, Mrs. Sidney Sanders and Mrs. D. J. Denny.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mesdames Shirley Seacrouse, of Savannah, and Miss Mary Evelyn Carter.

In the gift rooms were Mrs. Johnnie McCorkle and Miss Dorothy Carolyn Riggs.

Mrs. Holland and Mrs. E. L. Barnes furnished music for the reception.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dekle left for a wedding trip to Fayetteville, N. C., while Mr. and Mrs. Collins left for Savannah Beach.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Olliff, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Phillips, Miss Joan Phillips, Mrs. Rita Bell, Mrs. O. E. Shearouse and daughter, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. David Leon, Mrs. Dock White, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tilton and son, Bobby, all of Savannah; Mrs. J. O. Phillips, Jr., Mrs. Lawrence and daughter, Beverly Ann, of Adel; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips and sons, Sparky and Duane, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ray, Sr., of Albany, and Miss Mary Quinn Harvey, of Millen; Mrs. Bubler Waters, Miss Maud Collins and Miss Willie Lee Davis, of Savannah.

WOOD-BARNES

Announcement was made last week of the engagement of Miss Reba Wood to Emmett W. Barnes.

Plans have been made for an informal wedding at the Statesboro Baptist Church Saturday morning at eleven o'clock with Rev. T. Earl Serson officiating. Miss Wood will be given in marriage by her father, Mr. Ralph Leonard Wood.

Her maid of honor and only attendant will be Miss Ruth Gaskin, of East Point, Ga.

Mr. Barnes will have as his best man his cousin, Bradley Downs, Jr., of Cordele.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Jack Averitt, organist, and Billy and Bobby Holland, who will sing.

Ushers will be Parrish Blitch, Dekle Banks, Fred Darley, Immanuel Foy, John Ford Mays, Worth McDougald.

Highlighting the social affairs of last week were morning and afternoon bridge parties at Sewell House Thursday with Mrs. Everett Williams, Mrs. George Johnston, Mrs. Gilbert Cone and Mrs. W. A. Bowen as hostesses.

Guests were invited for seven tables in the afternoon.

Gladioli and zinnias were the flowers used. On both occasions the hostesses served fancy sandwiches, coca-colas and cookies.

In the morning Mrs. Bowen presented gifts to her house guests, Mrs. McRae, receiving a hand-painted ash tray and Miss Lawson receiving stationery. For high score Mrs. E. L. Atkins was given a minna-kit, Mrs. Lawrence Malard won cut, a set of modernistic glasses. With low score, Mrs. D. L. Davis was given a flower frog.

In the afternoon, Mrs. George Johnston complimented Mrs. Elliot Rountree, who has recently come here to make her home with a gift, Mrs. Jake Murray, winning top score, was awarded modernistic glasses. Mrs. Bill Adams won a minna-kit for cut; for low, Mrs. Herbert Weaver was given a flower frog.

District Meet Of 4-H Club Here July 24-26

Statesboro will be host July 24-26 to one of six district project achievement meetings being sponsored by the Georgia 4-H Club. The project meetings are being held to select district representatives to the state 4-H Club Congress which will be held in Atlanta this fall, according to W. A. Sutton, state club leader.

The achievement meetings, Mr. Sutton said, will assemble county champions in various 4-H club projects. These county winners will give demonstrations at the district meetings and the best demonstrators will be selected to represent their district. State winners will, in some projects, receive free trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

"While some of the projects carry cash awards, bonds, free trips and college scholarships, the real objective of the 4-H project achievement meetings is to build the character of the members," Mr. Sutton declared. "A member taking part in one of these meetings learns to stand before a crowd and learn to think while standing. We believe such activities help to promote character development and citizenship."

Projects open to senior girls include interior paint, public speaking, rural electrification, bread, health, home improvement, egg marketing, dress revue, dairy foods, rifle and forestry. Senior boys may take part in projects in livestock, exterior paint, public speaking, rural electrification, health, egg marketing, sweet potatoes, dairy production, rifle, forestry and farm fence.

Demonstrations open to junior members are dress revue, public speaking, muffs and home improvement.

Regional Librarian Attends Conference

Miss Isabel Sorrier, librarian of the Bulloch-Bryan Regional Library, and Mrs. Kathleen Rushing, bookmobile librarian, are in Milledgeville this week attending a Bookmobile Institute at the Georgia State College for Women.

Approximately 50 people are attending this workshop which is designed to give Georgia librarians the opportunity of exchanging ideas on ways of effectively reaching the people by bookmobile. An important part of this conference will be the presentation of information on activities of other states who have outstanding rural library programs. On Friday morning, Miss Sorrier is taking part on the program "Bookmobile Publicity."

They must be single and never have been married, divorced, or had marriage annulled. They must be of good character and possess poise, personality, intelligence, and must have charm and beauty of face and figure. Talent, such as singing or dancing, is desirable. Contestants must be in good health and be members of the white race.

Jo Ann Trapnell Now Qualified As Pharmacist

Miss Jo Ann Trapnell, of Statesboro, was one of twelve graduates of the University of Georgia School of Pharmacy to pass the state examination given recently in Atlanta.

With all 12 graduates passing the exam, the Pharmacy school's record remains unbroken, since no graduate has ever failed the state examination since examinations began in 1908, according to Dr. R. C. Wilson, dean of the school.

Veterans Told Of Overpay On GI Bill

Several thousand Georgia veterans who have been overpaid subsistence allowances and who may not re-enter school or training under the G. I. Bill until they make satisfactory arrangements for restitution, were today given three choices for repayment, according to Jack L. Biles, officer-in-charge of the Statesboro Contract Office.

First plan offered is for restitution in full, within ten days. The second plan, for veterans who plan to re-enter training within three months, authorizes the VA to withhold any future subsistence payments due until the overpayment is liquidated. The third plan, which deals with cases of undue hardship, authorizes checks or monthly payments of a certain amount, but at the discretion of the government.

All veterans who have received overpayments may now obtain a form upon which they can make known their own choice of plans, from any Georgia Regional Office or sub-regional or contract office. If the proposed arrangement proves satisfactory to the VA, the veteran will then be eligible to re-enter school or training.

Army Air Forces Announces New Recruiting Plan

A new recruiting program for the Regular Army Air Forces was announced this week by Captain Jack McGee, of the Statesboro recruiting station. Under the new program high school graduates may now apply and be selected for training in certain specialized Army Air Force courses of their choice prior to enlistment and without obligation.

Applicants should write directly to the Statesboro recruiting station, 1000 Barksdale Field, La., giving full name, address, age, race, summary of previous military training (if any), a transcript of their high school record, and three letters of recommendation. They should list three training courses in order of preference from the list of available courses below.

The Air Training Command will review all applications and notify each individual of selection or rejection. Accepted applicants will receive letters which authorize entrance to the course they choose, provided they are found qualified for enlistment.

The following courses are available to 3-year enlistees who select the Army Air Forces: Fabric and dope mechanics, aeroplane woodworker, aircraft welder, aeroplane and engine mechanic, control tower operator, parachute rigger and repair man, bomb sight mechanic, remote control turret repairman and mechanic, radio general course, radio fundamental course, telephone and telegraph cable splicer, telephone and telegraph equipment repairman, telephone mechanic repairman and installer, repairman, weather observer, photolithographer (PT) photographer, carpenter, draftsman and draftsman topographic, powerman, electrician, plumber, surveyor, refrigeration mechanic, water supply technician, construction equipment mechanic, diesel mechanic, operating engineer, machinist, sheet metal worker, combination welder and blacksmith, tabulating machine operator, clerk-typist, cryptographer, technician and AAF military police.

For further information see the recruiting sergeant at the post office in Statesboro each Friday from 8:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Safety Tip Of The Week

Wait A Minute—

Did you have eggs for breakfast? Lots of people do. Eggs taste good, they're good for you, and besides, they're quickly prepared when you're late for work and time is precious.

Lives are precious, too. In the three minutes or so while your breakfast eggs were boiling, at least two pedestrians were killed or injured somewhere on the nation's highways—or maybe in your community. While you were eating, another ten or more met with disaster.

National Conservation Bureau Safety specialists report impatience as the nation's Number One highway killer. Time is precious—sure! But not enough to pay for it with a life.

Chances are 3 to 1 those victims were in a hurry—they took the short way across the middle of the block, instead of the safe way at the crosswalk. They stepped out suddenly from behind a parked car, instead of looking both ways to see if the road was clear, or waiting until the traffic light had turned green.

The train, at present, consists of four cars. The first is a deluxe coach-baggage car for colored patrons, seating 56. Commenting on this car, M. P. Callaway, trustee of the railroad, said this was the finest passenger car for colored passengers on any railroad in the South. Accommodations are almost identical with those of the cars for white passengers.

The second car is a deluxe coach seating 68 passengers. This car is divided into two sections to provide better accommodations. The third car is the grill-lounge coach with accommodations for 16 in the dining section, 6 at the snack bar, and 24 in the lounge. The fourth car is a deluxe coach seating 56 passengers. The most modern rest rooms and lounge facilities for men and women are included in each car. The train is completely air-conditioned.

'Nancy Hanks II' Comes To Town In Fine Style

The Central of Georgia Railroad's million-dollar streamliner, Nancy Hanks II, took to the rails in Savannah Wednesday, kicked up a little dust behind her heels, and rolled into Statesboro for a brief inspection.

A crowd estimated at some 150 people met the sleek "Sunliner" at Dover Wednesday morning. The train, under the direction of R. C. Cummings, vice-president of the railroad, through Clito, and on into Statesboro, where a record-breaking crowd of over 2,000 greeted the train. The train, which was a first-hand examination of light-colored Vans, inserted in glass panels on the upper portion of each window, serve to protect daylight upwards within the car to the baggage rack and the roof. In this way daylight becomes diffused in a soft and even glow throughout the car.

The new train is the second Central of Georgia train to bear that name. It was not, as many people think, christened after Abraham Lincoln's mother. In the year 1892, a famous bay mare called Nancy Hanks created a sensation by covering a mile in 2:04 minutes to set a world record. And when the Central Railroad and Banking Company of Georgia, a few months later, placed in service the fastest train ever scheduled for service in the South, it seemed only natural to name it after the renowned trotter.

Men File 35% Of Claims For Unemployment

Only thirty-five per cent of the 14,000 state unemployment compensation claims filed in Georgia during May were made by men, Commissioner of Labor Ben T. Hulet pointed out this week in Atlanta upon releasing an analysis of the May operations of the Employment Security Agency.

The number of white claimants was seven times the Negro total. Approximately half the claimants were semi-skilled workers. Mr. Hulet said. Percentage of total claims as filed by other general occupational groups were as follows: Unskilled, 21.9; skilled, 11.6; clerical, 6.1; service, 3.9; sales, 3.1; managerial, 0.7; professional, 0.6; agricultural, 0.5.

Officials of her trips on the "Nancy I" and told about a trip from Savannah to Guyton which took five and a half hours, due to changing the tracks from wide to narrow gauge. When she arrived at the train Wednesday morning, Mrs. Arden had with her a bouquet of red sweet peas, picked from her flower garden, and she presented them to the engineer, to be placed in the cab of the diesel.

She told listeners of the time her husband engineered a private train for millionaire Jay Gould from Savannah to Augusta with only one stop, to set the fastest time between those cities ever recorded for a train. Mr. Gould had Mrs. Arden as his dinner guest upon completion of the trip.

Other "old-timers" remembered engineer Jim Smith, who once piloted "Nancy I" from Savannah to Atlanta and back in one day. They also recalled "Beautiful Barney" Cubbage, from Guyton, who was conductor on the original train. He was so named because of his extraordinary "good looks" and most of them agree the title was bestowed by the ladies of the era.

The train crew, when regular service is begun July 17, will include D. W. Barton, conductor, a 42-year veteran with the railroad; C. A. Smith, engineer; George D. Rutherford, flagman; J. A. Ryles, fireman; E. C. Bean, engineer; B. L. Wright, conductor; and others.

Railroad officials accompanying the train on the special run included M. P. Callaway, trustee; R. W. Cummings, vice-president and general manager; M. J. Wise, vice-president (industrial); T. J. Stewart, passenger traffic manager; G. W. Stratman, general passenger agent; V. M. Aspinwall, superintendent of transportation; and F. S. Baggett, secretary.

H. C. Osburn, formerly agent for the railroad in Statesboro and now assistant general claim agent, was also on the trip.
